

Directions by Car from (and to) Corfu Town

The village of Old Perithia is located approx. 50km (1 1/4 to 1 1/2 hours drive) from Corfu town in the north-east of the island, just beneath the highest mountain, Mount Pantokrator.

The most enjoyable and simplest (failsafe) way to get to village is along the coastal road, passing through lush green countryside on one side, and with views to the Ionian sea on the other.

1. Start by leaving Corfu town heading north. You leave the airport & turn right at the junction, follow the road and you will see the sea ahead of you after approx. 1/2-1 mile (2km) with the fort to the left and a windmill to the right in the distance.
2. At this T-junction turn left to the direction of the fort.
3. Stay on this road as it merges with another, you keep right and pass the fort on the right and cricket ground to the left. It's a one way so keep going through the arch to the left side of the Palace and keep on the coastal road.

4. Looking at the above map... the first important turn is near Limni, which is shortly after you pass by Gouvia (marina) heading north.

NB. At the junction by the traffic lights, there's a small print factory. Don't go straight on here, but turn right at these lights towards Dassia & Ipsos, and keep on the coastal road!

If you are travelling around lunchtime (our check-in is from 3pm) you may wish to stop for lunch, we'd suggest Kouloura Bay, just right past Kalami - it's pretty & secluded, check prices if you have more than a light lunch as they can surprise you with the bill, mention to Matina that you're staying with us. You are then approx. 30 mins from the B&B from Kouloura. If you prefer, drive onto Kassiopi & walk to the harbour where the Three Brothers (Old School) has good food, is reliable & reasonably priced, do mention you stay with us to Fondos or Vavara. **

5. Winding your way along the coast for approx. 25km from this junction, you follow the road until you pass by Kassiopi (to your right). See the map below...

After you pass Kassiopi carefully follow the next set of instructions below this map!

6. From passing Kassiopi as illustrated above... here are the more detailed instructions for the final part of your drive - as from there it's approx. 15km (25-30 minutes) until you reach Old Perithia:

7. Passing Kassiopi, after about 5-6km keep your eyes peeled. The turning you need is signposted Loutsa|Peritheia. On your left, look out for the yellow coloured entrance wall, and on the right a delicious ice-cream parlour, 'Ice Dreams' with the distinct ice cream cone on the roof.

8. This is where you turn up the road towards Old Perithia! You are now approx. 15 minutes drive away from the village.

9. Keep going for about 800m and the road splits ahead and to the left.

Turn left (do not go straight on!) pass a post office on the corner, then immediately tavernas left and right of you (Jelatis & Harry's) and follow the sign to 'Old Village of Perithia.'

10. Follow the road and quite soon there's a fork in the road, keep to the left fork (not to the right) then keep following the signs to Loutses and Old Peritheia.

11. Continue through the villages and along the winding road for about 3km through Loutses and past a 'Café and Honey' shop on your left. Soon afterwards you'll see a big blue sign to Old Perithia.

At this point (if you haven't already), open your windows and enjoy the natural perfume of scents and smells that emit from the numerous flowers, trees and herbs that carpet the mountains around you.

Please note, the roads are generally wide enough for 2 cars, but drive with caution as there are a few pot holes, not always barriers along the mountain road and the corners are often deceptively sharp.

12. Continue on the now narrow and winding roads (drive carefully) and the road will turn to tarmac, winding along with a few hairpin bends. Stay on the main road (don't go up any tracks off the main road).

13. Quiet soon, you pass an old stone stable on your right you will see Mount Pantokrator ahead in the distance through the cypress trees.

14. Passing a cut away hill on the left next to two small icons and are now very close to Old Perithia, the road starts to trail down towards the village ahead of you and, to the left the pink façade of the Bell tower & Holy Church of Saint Iakovos, Persis.

The rough parking area is before the No Through Road signs at the top of the village, entry to the village is for the taverna owners only.

The local goatherds and taverna owners often need to have access to their taverna's and homes, so please don't block the roads and pathways.

There isn't any particular crime in Corfu but to be safe leave do not leave valuables in your car. Please take litter home or use the bins provided & if you need a toilet, please ask in the tavernas and offer a euro or just buy a bottle of water.
